Snow and tell: Dr. Mike Jostock shared this LED light which snaps onto the top of a 9V battery. It has an on/off switch and both white and red LED's. It seems like a very convenient device to illuminate small dark spaces. They sell for $28.99 and can be found at www.smallcraftadvisor.com

Brian Lawson brought along a micrometer he found at Harbor Freight for just $25. He reports that the accuracy was impressive for that price point. If you need a spare mic take a look at www.harborfreight.com

I failed to record who carried in this rotaty broaching wobbler, but it ended up with Rick Chownyk by the end of the meeting. It was made by Slater Tool in Warren, Michigan. It featured a grease fitting for the bearing and adjustable offsets.

Slater Tools recently celebrated their 60th year in business. They are located at 44725 Trinity Drive, Clinton Township, Michigan 48038, telephone (586) 465-5000, and the web page is www.slatertools.com
